UNFINISHED/ NEW BUSINESS

Possession of Deadly Weapon in the County Building

County Attorney Doug Masson said a revision to the personnel policy manual is needed to address an amendment to the ordinance that prohibits deadly weapons in the County Building. The ordinance must be amended in order to comply with new State Law restricting the County's ability to pass such an ordinance. Two options are available to assure that the County employee handbook reflects the amended ordinance. Section 6.7 of the employee handbook can be repealed or the amended version of Section 6.7 can be approved.

- Commissioner Knochel moved to table the request to allow time for consideration, second by Commissioner Murtaugh; motion carried.

Sexual Harassment Policy

County Attorney Doug Masson said the County Employee Sexual Harassment Policy, Section 1.7, language states that false reports are serious and can result in sanctions. After reviewing the policy it is possible that having that type of language in the Sexual Harassment Policy could deter employees from reporting a complaint. Other changes include several different options for reporting a complaint allowing for flexibility.

- Commissioner Knochel moved to amend the Sexual Harassment Policy in the employee handbook to the updated version, second by Commissioner Murtaugh; motion carried.

HR Director Shirley Mennen said there are other sections of the Employee Handbook that are being revised and will be brought for approval when completed. The entire manual should be completed by the end of the year.

HR Director Shirley Mennen introduced Melissa Williams who accepted the HR Assistant position in the HR Department.

Translator Contract

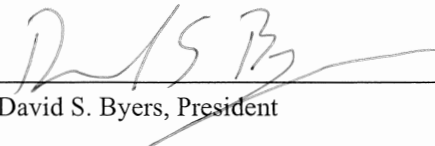

Auditor Jennifer Weston presented a translator agreement from Superior Court 6 with Nahieli Cook for approval. The terms are the consistent with other translator agreements.

- Commissioner Knochel moved to approve the translator agreement as presented, second by Commissioner Murtaugh; motion carried.
